DigiHealthDay™ Speaker

Ram Prakash Suriyanarayanan, MSc

Founder & CEO: Physio Plus Tech

Alumnus, Master Medical Informatics, DIT-ECRI

Ram Prakash Suriyanarayanan was a Physiotherapy clinician for 6 years at his own private practice in South India. With the intent to standardize his practice, he innovated in developing a clinic management software exclusively for physiotherapists in 2013, and launched it for the Indian physiotherapists, when computers were hardly used in Indian clinics. He not only stabilized the Health-tech business at a hard market in a wrong time, he also aspired to acquire a global education on Health Information technology to aid the growth of this business internationally, so he joined Deggendorf Institute of Technology's Masters Medical Informatics at fall 2017 and completed with an ace while also performing a user research during the version change of his very own product. He is currently conceiving on starting up another Health-tech business based in germany.

He is also an ardent speaker who has delivered keynotes and seminars at International conferences in India, held at Delhi, Mumbai Jaipur, Udaipur, Ahmedabad, Patna, Chennai, Madurai and Bangalore on the Digital documentation of Clinical practice and role of technology in physiotherapy.
